

"I will pour my Spirit out on everyone.
Your sons and daughters will proclaim my message,
Your young men will see visions,
And your old men will have dreams.
Yes, even on My servants, both men and women,
I will pour out my spirit in those days,
And they will proclaim my message.
I will perform miracles in the sky above,
And wonders on the earth below.
There will be blood, fire, and thick smoke;
The sun will be darkened,
And the moon will turn red as blood,
Before the great and glorious Day of the Lord comes.
And then, whoever calls out to the Lord for help
Will be saved."

Acts 2: 17(b)

For every peoples, God has a land; and for every nation, God has a plan.

The element of water synonymous with the Australian Nation. Water is Australia's greatest source of power.

As the effects of climate change take their toll, the question of where Australia gets it's water from is crucial to its long term future.

The constitution currently states that policy and regulation for water in Australia is the domain of the states. The future of Australian water requires a national solution, and is the key to the future Strength of the nation.

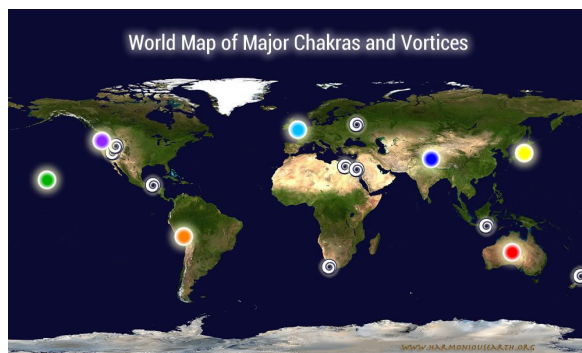

The Great Artesian Basin is the largest source of underground water on the planet:

In the ever unfolding revelation that is the expansion of the Kingdom of God, history continually repeats itself. God is intent on showing each and every person His glorious might.

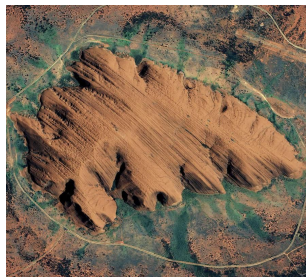

Only God can deliver the water the Australian peoples need in order to thrive.

The serpent is a pivotal figure in the scriptures, and a foundational deity of Indigenous Australians. God did what He did to the serpent in the Garden of Eden in order to make him holy. The serpent represents great vital force and energy, and fertility. It is a natural phenomenon found in individuals, and in nature. Its position, at rest, is coiled around the first chakra or root chakra at the base of the spine.

"The sacred site of Uluru is universally recognised a location of one of these planetary chakras.

The redness of the surrounding desert, and the similarity between Uluru and the tail bone at the base of the human spine indicate that Uluru is the site of the earth's root chakra.

Australia will forge its independence in a crucible of culture that sets off a global wave of social and cultural revolution; and Australia's atonement for the original sin upon which it is founded will be made, thereby enabling it to independently steer its way to its destiny.

God will deliver the Australian nation and its peoples from the current state of rising lawlessness, into a society built upon good will and love of Christ. He will make Australia great, that it may sit among the other nations that have been made right with Him at the tables of the Lord of Hosts.
